

ECNL NEWS

Thank you to the majority of clubs who have already begun using the full range of resources offered by The Coaches' Voice. The feedback we have received to this point has been overwhelmingly positive with respect to the breadth of content offered as part of the CV membership, stretching well beyond the required ECNL Coach Professional Development (CPD) hours.

The subscription to the ECNL Coach Education Center, powered by The Coaches' Voice, is offered at individual or club level and is open to coaches at all levels and in any league. To access the registration link, please CLICK HERE.

Additionally, in order to help with the process, Coaches' Voice has created a short video with a demonstration of the ECNL Coach Education Center. To access the video, please CLICK HERE.

For pricing as well as the discounted rates we have to offer, please see the table below:

Please note, the initial CV subscription spans over 18 months starting as of the date we opened enrollment in January and provides access to the full system, with coaching development from many of the top managers and clubs from around the world, until July 31, 2025. For ECNL clubs that have not yet registered with CV, any further delay will only reduce the amount of time you and your staff have to get started with your mandatory CPD hours and enjoyment of all the system has to offer.

As a reminder, during the 2024-25 season, all individuals who will be present in the technical area of the player's sideline during any ECNL Competition must fulfill a minimum of five (5) hours of required Coaching Professional Development (CPD) prior to being issued a card for the 2024-2025 season. This requirement excludes Team Managers, unless there is a potential scenario where they may be involved in coaching duties or other relevant activities within the technical area.

Thank you again to all clubs that have already registered and initiated the process. We are thrilled to see such positive feedback!
